

News Digest

Egyptian closes permanently

Financial problems have forced the permanent closure of the Egyptian Theatre, 135 N. Second St. Owner of the theatre, Doug Glendening of Dundee, has said the only way the theatre would reopen would be if another person bought it from him. The theatre was closed Friday by city officials after its water was shut off because of an overdue $3,800 water bill. The theatre also has a $6,000 outstanding heating bill from earlier this year. Glendening, owner of Dollarodeon Theatres, purchased the Egyptian in April 1976.