

Hal Pearl will show the younger generation what an old-time movie theater organ sounded like when he plays a program Thursday at the restored instrument in the Patio theater on Irving Park road.